ZATION COMMITTEE REPORTED.

IS TO RECEIVE $45,000,000-ATTORNEY GENERAL HARMON IN THE CITY

A SHORT TIME.

The understanding in Wall Street yesterday was that an arrangement had been completed with the Administration at Washington for the full discharge of the obligations of the Union Pacific Railway to the Government, and that the reorganization of the company would proceed without delay. It was said that the plan was for the Attorney-General of the United States to move for a sale of the property under foreclosure on an agreement that the Government should receive out of the sum bid for it $45,000 .-The last detailed statement of the debt of the Union Pacific to the Government, made on October 1, 1896, showed that the principal amounted to $30,539,512, and interest to $36,944,-200, while both together amounted to $70,483,-$12 The last report of the condition of the sinking fund created to provide for the Government debt was that it contained in round numrailroad and United States bonds. The Wail Street report was that the payment of $45,000 was to be made if the sinking fund remained as a part of the Union Pacific's assets, but if it was surrendered to the Government, then the payment was to be only $28,000,000. It was said the Government had elected to take $45,000,000 in cash and give up the sinking fund.

The deal with the Government was said to have been closed on Tuesday, when Winslow s. Pierce, of New-York, the counsel for the nion Pacific Reorganization Committee, was in Washington for that purpose. The matter was approved at a meeting of the Cabinet on the same day. Attorney-General Harmon came to New-York yesterday afternoon to consult with ex-Governor George Hoadly, who is retained as counsel for the Government in Union Pacific offalis, and also to confer with members of the Reorganization Committee and members of the syndicate formed to underwrite the reorganization plan. He had a long talk with ex-Governor Headly late in the day at the latter's office, No. 22 William-st. He returned to Washington

M. A. Hanna came and full of hope regarding his Senatorial prospects. Mr. Hanna said to a reporter who met him at the station: "I came to Canton to talk about these," exhibiting a large vellow envelope filled with papers, "not to discuss the Ohio But the reporter did not see the merry twinkle in Chairman Hanna's eye when he made the statement, for it was to confer with Major McKinley on Ohio politics, more than for any other reason, that Mr. Hanna visited Canton to-day.

On Friday Mr. Hanna is going to Columbus to attend a banquet given by the members of the Legislature. Governor Bushnell is to preside, and Mr. Hanna is to respond to a toast. Hanna seemed confident to-day that he would be appointed to the Senate, though he has had no word from Governor Bushnell on the subject. He no doubt bases his expectations upon the very general and emphatic manifestations of public sentiment in his behalf. He will doubtless see Governor Bushnell on Friday, and have a full and pleasant talk with him. The Republicans of Ohio are more closely united now than they have been at any time since the war, and there is no disposition on the part of any of the leaders to disturb this harmony. Senator-elec: Foraker, who had contributed so much to it, seems particularly desirous of maintaining it, and the President-elect desires nothing more cordially that; to have his own State heartily and solidly at his back; and thoughtful Ohio Republicans want to give him all the support and assistance and encouragement pos-

As the congranization plan now stands, the assessment con Union Pacific stock is $15 a share. It has been said that the assessment would not be increased in case of a settlement with the Government, but that is a point on which there may be a change. It is certain that the plan in other respects will have to be considerably amended. Winslow S. Pierce was seen at his home, No. 19 West Fifty-eighth-st., last evening. Mr. Pierce has been in Washington much of late attending the hearings upon the bill before Capters and looking after the interests of his eilents. When asked if an agreement had been reached, he replied: "My connection with the Reorganization Committee is purely professional, and I do not believe that I can say a word about the matter. I cannot talk about the committee's business."

E. H. Conger, of lowa, who was formerly one of Major McKinley's colleagues in Congress and was Minister to Brazil under the Harrison Administration, called on the President-elect this morning. "lowa," said he, "has several men who would make excellent Cabinet officers. A. B. Cummins for Attorney-General and ex-Congressman James Wilson for Secretary of Agriculture are most frequently talked of. Mr. Wilson is uncommonly well fitted for the position of Secretary of Agriculture. He has wide official and agricultural experience. He was a successful member of Congress, a good State Commissioner of Railways, and is a most excellent professor in our State Agricultural College. He has charge of the experiment station and is a highly successful manager. In addition to these qualifications he is a practical farmer, and owns and conducts several fine and profitable farms. He has the support of all of the lowa Republicans, and I hope to see him selected for the Cabinet."

Major McKinley the claims for various Republi-cans of this State for Cabinet preference. Mr. Lauterbach had little to say regarding his visit to the President-elect when seen yesterday by a Tribune reporter. The dispatch which appeared in the Tribune yesterday, he stated, related practically all that he had to say. There was one little para-graph in that report, however, that did not exactly please Mr. Lauterbach. It was stated that he had not been included in an invitation to luncheon exnot been included to their visitors to Major McKinley on Tuesday. "I was invited to luncheon," explained Mr. Lauterbach, with some emphasis, "but my arrangements prevented me accepting."

"I went to Canton," continued Mr. Lauterbach, "as the representative of Governor Black, Senatorelect Platt, and of 144 out of 151 Republican members of the Legislature. We thought it about time goods that Major McKinley was informed as to the situation in this State and the wishes of the Republican organization. My direct purpose was to secure a New-York representation in the Cabinet, and to place before Major McKinley the names of two or three men who would be acceptable to Republicans of all shades and opinions. I presented to him the names of three men who would, I think he satisfactory to Republicans of this State. Those names were J. Sloat Fassett, General Woodford and Congressman Payne."

Mr. Lauterbach added that he had been most pleasantly received by Major McKinley, and from the impression he formed of the conversation that subsequently took place, he had little doubt that New-York would be represented in the next Cabinet, and reoresented by some one who would not excite factional differences. that Major McKinley was informed as to the situa-

MR. FITCH REPLIES TO JUSTICE BEACH.

PROVED BY THE COURT.

Justice Miles Beach was yesterday quoted as saying: "This is an outrage. If it goes any further somebody is going to jail." The "somebody," according to the rest of the story, was Controller Fitch, and he was going to be sent to jati because he had refused to pay a bill of C. G. Burgayne for printing 2.000 copies of the report of the Commissioners, E. Ellery Anderson, Scephen H. Olin, Thomas Hunter, David McClure and Oscar S. Straus, to revise the laws affecting common schools and public education in New-York City, amounting to $130.80, which had been approved by the Court.

The Controller, being asked about the matter yesterday, said that he would always rather go to jail for refusing to pay an exorbitant bill against the city than to stay out of jail by paying it. Mr. Fitch made his statement in explanation of his action:

In the regular course of business this claim, when presented to the Andiling Bureau of the Finance Department, was referred to Thomas Dwyer. Examiner of Printing and Statlonery, for examination. Mr. Dwyer has been in the Finance Department about six years, and from 1852 up to the time of his appointment in the Department was engaged in the business of printing and stationery.

"After an examination of the bill he reported that the prices charged by C. S. Burgoyne for the work were very largely in excess of the proper, just and reasonable rates for the same, and that the work done by them was worth, at the outside limit, only the sum of $82.9. Estimates were also made by other printers, whose figures were a trifle less than the price fixed by Mr. Dwyer.

"In view of the testimony of said experts as to the real and true value of the work done by C. G. Burgoyne, it was not considered the proper thing for the city to expend $130.80 for that which was worth not more than $82.48."

much larger aftendance at the second night's the President-clect. Mrs. McKinley was in bet- sale of the Marshall O. Roberts collection of paintings, at the Chickering Hall, than on Tuesday evening. The reason was to be found in the fact that among the pictures catalogued to be disposed of last night was E. Leutze's famous work, "Washington Crossing the Delaware." the disappointment of many, the picture was not shown. Its large size, twenty-one feet by twelve feet three inches, precludes its being moved easily from place to place, but to intending bidders opportunity had been given to view it at the gallery, No. 107 Fifth-ave. The painting was bought by John S. Kennedy for $16,100. Mr. Kennedy immediately announced his intention of presenting this historic work to the Mctropolitan Museum of Art. The gift was as unexpected as it was generous, and hearty and spontaneous applause greeted Mr. Kennedy's announcement.

The first bid for the painting, which was described by the auctioneer as "the most valuable picture on the Continent, intrinsically and in historic interest," was $50. Then at one jump the price was carried to $7,000. In a rapid succession of $1,000 bids, the offer was carried to $15,000. After a brief lull, an additional $100 was called, and then the bidding was carried on by Mr. Kennedy and a dealer, who was said to be acting for C. P. Huntington. The latter made a final bid of $16,000, but Mr. Kennedy immediately added another $100, and at the figure named the painting was knocked down

Another high-priced picture was Church's 'Rainy Season in the Tropics," which was purchased by J. O. Wright & Co. for $1,550. Among the successful bidders of the evening was John D. Crimmins, who secured Dillen's "The Betrothal' for $140, and Mount's "The Raffle" for

EDWARD J. IVORY RELEASED.

THE PROSECUTION COLLAPSES-JUSTICE HAWK-INS GIVES SOME GOOD ADVICE.

London, Jan. 20.-The trial of Edward J. Ivory, alleged dynamite conspirator, which began on Monday, suddenly came to an end to-day by the complete collapse of the Government's case and the discharge of the prisoner. When Justice Hawkins took his seat on the bench in the Cen-R. B. Finlay, Solicitor-General, who has been conducting the prosecution, addressed the Court, sayducting the prosecution, addressed the Court, saying that the prosecution authorities in the case had made the discovery that the explosives which were found in Aniwerp were purchased after the date of the alleged conspiracy, as far as Ivory was concerned therein, and there was no evidence to show that he was concerned in the purchase of the explosives. Therefore, he said, that portion of the case could not be sustained, and it was not constomary to proceed with the trial of a case mon minor charges after the principal charge had upon minor charges after the principal charge had been withdraw.

Justice Hawkins concurred in the remarks of inspector Melville, Chief of the Scotland Yard Police, who was mainly instrumental in bringing about the arrest of Ivory, Tynan, Kearney and Haines was the first to congratulate the defendant after his release. Taking Ivory by the hand, Inspector Melville expressed the hope that the now free man would lay to heart the warning given to him by the Judge to keep out of bad company in the future, to which Ivory replied: "You can bet your bottom dollar I will."

Ivory told a representative of the United Associated Presses that he was going to Dublin and from there to America. He declined to talk about his case, but said that he had not suffered in any respect during his confinement in jail, though he had lost fifty pounds in weight.

After the discharge of Ivory, John F. McIntyre, of New-York, said that when he arrived in London he found that the British counsel retained for the defence were disposed to put in a plea of guilty, but he had advised against such a course for the reason that there was no evidence to justify Ivory's conviction Mr. McIntyre highly commended the fairness of Sir R. B. Finlay, the Solicitor-General, in adopting the same view as that held by Ivory's advisers.

The general drift of comment upon the collapse of the case in London this afternoon is that the whole thing was a police "fake."

obliged to relinquish his post and return to his home.

In 1864 Dr. Duryee organized the Reformed Church of Lafayette, in Jersey City, and continued to be its pastor for twenty-five years. During this period he declined several calls from larger churches, and sless the position of professor of theology in the seminary of the church, lie was prominent in the counsels of the church, lie was prominent in the counsels of the church, and was president of the General Synod in 1881.

In 1891 he accepted the professorship of ethics at Rutgers, a chair established in honor of Theodore Frelingthuysen, who was president of the college while Dr. Duryee was a student. Dr. Duryee had also acted as college chaplain. He was a careful student, and was an authority on the history of the early Dutch and Huguenot settlements in America. He had been a constant contributor to secular and redgious periodicals, and had also published a book of poems and a monograpion on the English Bible. He was interested in many reform movements, and counted among his intimate friends many leaders in the political world. He was a member of several literary organizations, and of the St. Nicholas and Holland societies of this city.

He leaves a widow and four children. After brief exercises in the college chapel on Saturday the body will be taken to Newark. The functal services will be held in the North Reformed Church, and burial will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The new style holders furnished with these pensembody new principles, which are an improvement upon all other styles of fountair pen holders.

The method of fitting the caps is new, fitting on the barrel above instead of be ow the ink joint.

As a result of these improvements the Waterman ideal Fountain Pen combines an easy writing gold pen, a smooth and control table holder and a self-adjusting cap with the perfect automatic feed of the Waterman Pen.

These excellencies induced the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew to write of it as the "Incomparable Fountain Pen."
